If You are Suffering

From torpidity of the liver or constipation of the bowels, try a bottle of Hepatitis. Dr. Tobin's great liver medicine. Every bottle is guaranteed to you, and your money refunded if you are not satisfied.
For sale at C. Schaefer's drug store, and by C. Schaefer. 3-21-11

Cause of Failure.

Want of confidence accounts for half of the business failures of today. C. Schaefer, A. Dreese and L. Orynski, druggists, are not liable to fail for the want of confidence in Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, for they give away a bottle free to all who are suffering with Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Consumption and all affections of the Throat and Lungs.

Bosanko's Garden, Tenth Street.

This beautiful and shady pleasure resort is again open to the public, situated as it is, on the street car track and of easy access. It has a fine flower garden, a beautiful promenade under a dense shade of flowering trees, concert every Saturday and Sunday evenings. 5-23-11
F. BOSANKO, Proprietor.

Moonlight at the Springs.

There is not a finer place in the country for pleasure and enjoyment than the San Pedro Springs park. The beautiful moonlight nights added to the fresh perfumes of spring and summer flowers, and the sweet music as rendered by the Spring band make it the realization of an earthly paradise. 5-19-11

An Open Letter.

SAN ANTONIO, January 1, 1883.
DR. J. J. & W. H. TOBIN:
GENTLEMEN: Your Hepatitis has been used in my family for over a year, and I can unhesitatingly say it is the best remedy I have ever used for any liver trouble or constipation of the bowels. I would not be without it. Respectfully, A. W. HUBERTS.
For sale at C. Schaefer's and C. Schaefer's drug store. 3-21-11

Sands of Life.

Time nor tide wait for no man, but the sands of life continue to flow on and on, year after year, never stopping, never hesitating in its work of waste, unless occasioned by a Cough, Cold or some Lung Affection, where Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup arrests it and makes the span of life its allotted three score and ten. Go to C. Schaefer, A. Dreese, or L. Orynski, druggists, and ask them for a free trial bottle of this medicine. They have them to give away.

Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. Attending symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed, is a very common attendant. Blind Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. Price 50 cents. Sold by C. Schaefer, A. Dreese and L. Orynski.

A WOULD-BE SUICIDE.

Strange Discovery of a Man Hanging by His Heels Near Houston Street.

As my friend and I were walking past the old bridge, our attention was attracted by a man who was hanging head downward from one of the cross beams, with his feet so wedged in between the timbers that it took several minutes and our united efforts before we could extricate him. Upon lifting him up I found my hands covered with blood, and as I laid him down upon the bridge, I saw a deep gash extending from ear to ear across his throat. We were horrified at the ghastly spectacle, and my friend hastened away for a physician. In the meantime I noticed an occasional trembling of the would-be suicide, and judged that that life was not extinct. By this time the physician arrived, and at once applied restoratives, and in a few moments the poor fellow recovered consciousness. I knelt down beside him and asked him why he had acted so desperately, and he reached up, and taking my pencil out of my pocket, wrote on the back of card these words: "A kind friend advised me to buy a watch from Emerson; I bought elsewhere, and my shoes are worn out; going to the shop, I have not got enough money to pay for the last repairs; you know the rest."

FROM CORPUS CHRISTI.

The Visit of the Tennessee Press Excursion to Nueva Laredo.

Editor San Antonio Light.
CORPUS CHRISTI, July 14, 1883.—"Procrastination," proverbially known as the thief of time, must be my excuse for confessing to the sin, if sin it be, of the omission to write an earlier letter.

Last Sunday the Tennessee Press association struck the shores of the Rio Grande in the early hours of the morning, and after due process of renovating the inner man with a substantial breakfast and adding finishing touches to the toilet (this latter remark does not apply to the ladies accompanying the press gang), the proposition was made to invade the Mexican territory, and the pilgrimage down the steep bluff to the ferry began. Arriving in Nueva Laredo, the land of the Monterumas, many places of interest were visited, the most attractive parts of which specially to the ladies were the dry good stores, which were all open and doing (notwithstanding it was Sunday) a thriving business. Some of the ladies showed a decided predilection to view every yellow skinned Mexican baby within the mother's arms, or swung in mid air in a primitive cradle, composed of a wooden box hanging by four rawhide strings joined together in one, some four or five feet from the floor and suspended from a rafter in the roof. Several young ladies, a Miss Quail, and a Miss Helms, deserve the cake for vivacity and a searching interest in all things that came under observation.

Having occasion to stop at San Diego your correspondent had the pleasure of meeting many old time acquaintances, even from ante-bellum times. Among them, last but by no means least, is Senor Don Salvador de la Vega, the last scion of a once noble race of ancient Spanish Hidalgoes, who, with his estimable wife, were residents of Matamoros and Brownsville.

Corpus Christi, the Gulf metropolis of Southwest Texas, is reached at last. Many passengers on the train expecting to take the steamer are disappointed, for, owing to want of deep water, the tides being more than ordinarily low, the steamer is unable to cross the bar.

There has been a great controversy between the pleasure loving and the pleasure giving sections of this city on the one side and the orthodox Sunday saints, preachers and others on the other side, in regard to the Sunday entertainments of the Herdic company at their pavilion on the beach.

MAGNITE.

THE BREVITY BASKET.

Filled With Mention of Minor Events and Funny Items.

A New York paper doesn't miss it far by asserting that pie is the great American desert. A Rotterdam girl eats two pounds of candies daily. This is enough to R—m teeth out.

A Western editor refers to the old English commander as "John Bright, an alleged inventor of a celebrated disease of the kidneys." "Yes, embrace her if ye will, ye sportive waves, but you have none the best of me," cried Freddie as the sparkling breakers enveloped the fair lily at the seaside the other day.

The mob law mania has reached the women. At Huron, Dakota, a number of women pulled down and destroyed the shanty of a man who was trespassing on the claim of a widow.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean accuses a St. Louis paper of publishing the announcement that the Captain of a base ball club had resigned under the caption, "A Startling Rumor." This is awful.

A blundering compositor, in setting up the toast, "Woman—without her, man would be a savage," got the punctuation in the wrong place, which made it read, "Woman, without her man, would be a savage."

A Michigan law provides that children in public schools shall be instructed as to the effects of alcohol upon the human system. Here is a golden opportunity for some of our young men out of employment to give object lessons.

There was a sudden cry of fire at one of our hotels the other night. There was no fire, but a young lady guest was so frightened that her hair, which she left in a box on the dressing case, in the morning was found to have turned gray.

Fergus Falls Telegram: A Fargo boy swallowed a bullet yesterday, and his mother took him to a doctor. The doctor gave the boy a powder, put on his cap, and told his mother to take him home, and be careful not to point him toward anybody.

Ruskin, in "Fors Clavigera," says every girl should keep her lover on probation for seven years before she marries him. This makes Burdette exclaim: "Heaven bless your simple soul, John; you don't know what you are talking about. Keep a lover on probation seven years? Why, that's four years longer than most women in America keep their husbands; and a girl who probates two lovers per annum in this land thinks the market has broke away down to sixty-two."

Old Says Revisited.

"Virtue is the only nobility," and the face of nobles has pretty nearly died out.

"Walls have ears," but they are often celled.

Truth is often stranger than an associated press report.

Man proposes and frequently gets left.

"The middle station is safest," but it won't hold good on a car track.

A setting hen misses lots of fun. Truth is mighty, but a lie well sworn too often knocks the props from under it.

"Look not a gift horse in the mouth," you might get bit.

"He who does a thing by the agency of another, does it himself," may be very good law, but it won't work well in courting a girl.
